Adult volunteering opportunities

Scouting can be a hugely valuable experience for youngsters, but, it absolutely would not exist without the dedication of volunteers such as the Leaders, regular and occasional helpers, committee members, and Young Leaders. Volunteering with young people can be hugely rewarding, but not only does it provide you with the satisfaction of using your time to improve the life and social skills of those taking part in a structured learning programme, it also opens up the excellent training offered by scouting to it's leaders and supporters.

Many businesses recognise the benefit that scouting provides to employees and having scouting on a CV gives an edge when applying for work. What's more, scouting is great fun and an excellent way to become involved with your community.

2nd Langham Scouts

has numerous opportunities to volunteer, in leader and assistant leader roles, in the management of the group which does not involve a regular weekly commitment and occasional help providing adult support for hikes, camps etc. Should any level of assistance interest you, please contact Colin Wallace (Chairman) at crcmwallace@gmail.com, speak to a leader or contact the group through the web site.

Can anyone help?

Hello... I hope this email reaches someone in Boxted. I am a retired American journalist who visited your lovely village in 1985. I was there to talk to a retired British sailor named Sam Barclay. I managed to find his house and enjoyed the meeting very much.

I was then and still continue to do research for a book. Mr. Barclay and his long-time friend, Jon Leatham, took part in the adventure about which my book will be written. If you know Mr. Barclay, you may be aware of the model of a Greek-style sailboat called a caique. The real boat was named Stormie Seas and was used by Messrs. Barclay and Leatham for series of secret missions performed on behalf of HM Government. He was a very experienced sailor and those activities included his sail boat Stormie Seas, a model of which he kept in his house there in your village.

Recently I came across Mr. Barclay's name and remembered my visit to Boxted. My question to you is whether you can tell me how Mr. Barclay is doing and do you have an email address for him. I would just like to send him a little news about my work of which he consented to be a part. Thank you for your help.

Best wishes,

Tom McNiff, Jr. retired American journalist, Boston, Massachusetts, USA

Thank you for your interest in this matter.

Parish Council

Boxted Parish Council has taken the decision to temporarily close the village Sports Pavilion while emergency health and safety works are carried out to the building.

The Parish Council takes its legal and statutory responsibilities as owner of the building very seriously, and puts the safety of all users first. The emergency work has already started and the building will reopen once both the work has been completed and formal hiring arrangements have been agreed. Boxted Parish Council will liaise with the sports clubs re. a reopening date.
